

LOCAL AND GENERAL NEWS

Itemized Account of Doings in City and Country.

LOCAL NOTES.

The north bound train was an hour late this morning.

Next Tuesday at East Portland the grand lodge of Good Templars will convene.

Capt. L. S. Scott is wearing Marshal Ross' star, while he is absent for three or four days.

Two crazies, one from Douglas and one from Umatilla county, were added to the number at the asylum to-day.

The directors of Brush college, Polk county, have recently made some very desirable improvements in the school furniture. Over $200 has been expended for patent seats, teacher's desk, etc. The seats were brought from the east, and are single.

Bob Jordan Given Two Years.

Bob Jordan was arraigned this morning in the circuit court on the charge of larceny of the bed clothes from the opera house last October, and entered a plea of guilty, waived time and was sentenced to serve two years in the penitentiary. Jordan will get another whack at it when he gets out of the pen, as there is a warrant hanging in the sheriff's office, from Arlington, Gilliam county, charging him with horse stealing.

Rev. J. W. Webb Returns.

Rev. J. W. Webb who has been attending the national prohibition convention at Indianapolis, has returned home, well pleased with his trip. He has done much to advertise Oregon on his trip. On the train last night, he found a good many people from the middle north west going to California, who expressed continual surprise at the beauty of the country through which they were passing.

Heavy Damages Awarded.

The jury in the action for damages against Clall Hayden, after being out eighteen hours, came in just before noon to-day, bringing a verdict in favor of the plaintiff, John Patterson, for damages in the sum of $3633 and costs. This was the case where the defendant was charged with seducing the plaintiff's daughter, Stella.

To Have a Change.

Uniqua Herald: The men employed on the division south of Roseburg, will change places with those employed on the northern division for the next two weeks. Those on the northern division having the most arduous labor to perform, the change is made in their interest.

The Grand Jury.

This honorable body is visiting the poor house and public buildings to-day. It has so far reported six bills, one "not a true bill," and the court has acted on three of them. In the other two cases, no arrests have been made yet.

Railroad Bridge Work.

The carpenters who have been working on the bridge across the Molalla river, will finish their labors there soon and go to Harrisburg, where they will put in a new bridge across the Willamette.

A Year for a Nose.

Deputies Vincent and Taylor brought a man to the penitentiary from Pendleton this morning, to serve a one year sentence for biting a man's nose off in a street brawl, on election day.

Annual Camp Meeting.

Annual camp meeting of the Christian church will commence to-day at Turner. Squire Johnson and J. W. Webb drove out this morning despite the rain.

Demurrer Overruled.

The demurrer of the defendants in the Silvertown election case was overruled by Judge Boise in the circuit court, their answer filed, and the case will come up for trial to-morrow.

Cash For Wool.

Highest cash price paid for wool to the Opera House block.

P. LEVY.

Broommaking.

Basques cut by the latest bias system, at Mrs. A. H. Farrar's.

THE COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES.

The Alumni Re-Union, The College Graduates. The Last Day.

The alumni of the university held their annual election and business meeting yesterday afternoon. Col. Robert A. Miller, '78, was elected president, Mrs. J. D. Lee, '67, N. L. Butler, '66, and W. C. Hawley, '88, vice-presidents; Miss Nellie Boise, '87, secretary; Miss Minnie Cunningham, '80, treasurer; Geo. B. Gray, '78, member of the board of trustees, Willamette university. R. A. Miller, Nellie Boise, Minnie Cunningham, J. Benson Starr, '87, and Mrs. Amelia Miller, '71, executive committee.

THE ALUMNI EXERCISES.

The exercises at the university last night, were of a very enjoyable nature, and the chapel hall was crowded. The evening was occupied in the literary exercises of the alumni of the university. The program began with a piano duet, Misses Moores and Reynolds, after which Rev. T. F. Royal offered prayer.

The class of '88 was then brought in, and Hon. N. L. Butler, of Dallas, a graduate in the class of '66, introduced them formally to the alumni in a very eloquent speech, which was feelingly responded to by President Miller, as he welcomed the new-comers to a home in the alumni association of the Willamette university.

Mrs. Amelia E. Miller, of the class of '71 followed the introduction of the class with a very entertaining essay on the subject of "Fault Finding."

The Misses Royal sang a duet in a very pleasing way, and Hon. T. F. Royal, '70 delivered the alumni oration on the subject "What is a diploma?" The speaker defined a diploma, as any evidence of a person's work. It represented what we could do to-day, or had done in the past, and not what we might or would do in the future. The subject was ably discussed, and was listened to with marked attention by all present.

Prof. J. B. Horner, '85, read an original poem on the subject of "The World's Pillars," which demonstrated that the author had excellent powers of versification. There was very much merit in the production. Miss Addie M. Scriber, '78, then recited the pathetic story of "Brother Ben" with such a degree of feeling, as to elicit the sympathies of her audience in behalf of the "homeless girl," and her hope that the power of crime was not "in the blood" of little Ben.

Chas. "Blowers" as he writes his name with a pen, but generally known to the public as Chas. B. Moores, then read the annals of the alumni, which proved very interesting. These annals recited the whereabouts of nearly every living member of the association, and paid glowing tributes to the memory of those who have gone before. A cornet solo by Prof. Coomer, and benediction by Rev. F. P. Tower closed the literary exercises.

The members of this association afterwards gathered in the rooms of the women's college, where an elegant supper was discussed, with impromptu speeches, etc., and a jolly "reunion" was had by all.

THE HISTORY OF THE ALUMNI.

Probably a little history right here may not come in amiss, as many of our readers would probably like to know how this association has grown to be so large. The first member—the charter member of this association, was Mrs. Emily J. (York) Moores, now of Portland, who took the degree of Bachelor of Science in 1859, and Mrs. Addie B. (Looney) Reasoner, the second member, was graduated in 1862, and died in 1867. She was a sister of Mrs. S. C. Hatch of this city, and the annalist paid her beauty and attainments, a glowing tribute of praise last night. In 1863 a class of twelve graduates were added to the association, among whom were Hon. John B. Waldo, of this county, and Prof. T. H. Crawford of Portland. Since then 202 members have been added to its rolls, making the total number of graduates up to the present, 222, of whom thirty-one have gone to join the great caravan on the other side of the dark river of death. The list of members of the alumni contains many names now quite well known to fame—Prof. T. H. Crawford, city superintendent of public schools, Portland; Hon. Jno. B. Waldo, ex-chief justice of the supreme court of Oregon; P. L. Willis, attorney at law, Portland; Syl. C. Simpson, ex-state superintendent of public instruction of Oregon, now a prominent lawyer of San Francisco; N. L.

Butler, lawyer of Dallas and unsuccessful candidate for congress on the democratic ticket; Henry H. Giffy, reading clerk of the United States senate, Washington, D. C.; Rev. Carroll C. Stratton, A. M., D. D., now president of Mills' college, Berkeley, Cal.; Julius A. Stratton, ex-clerk of the supreme court, ex-superintendent of the Oregon penitentiary, now a lawyer in Seattle; Chas. B. Moores, A. B., LL. B., ex-private secretary to Gov. Moody; Hon. Tilton Ford, a legal light of Salem; Geo. A. Peebles, ex-superintendent schools Marion county, Oregon; Samuel Simpson, poet and story writer, Portland; Robert A. Miller, Lieut. Col., and A. D. C. on the staff of Gov. Penoyer, and twice elected representative from Jackson county; Richmond Kelly, A. M., M. D., Portland; S. A. Randall, principal of Salem public schools, J. B. Horner, principal of the Roseburg public schools, and many others. Truly the Willamette university may be proud of its alumni.

THE COLLEGE COMMENCEMENT.

MYSTERIOUS FATALITIES.

What is it that is killing so many Prominent Men?

The death of Kaiser Wilhelm, ex-Gov. Hoffman, Banker J. W. Drexel, Lieut. Gov. Dorsheimer, Dr. Carpenter, Chief Justice Waite and Genl. B. H. Brewster, in quick succession, and all from the same cause, although having different names, is startling. March and April are fatal months, not only for consumptives but also for many diseases more disguised but none the less fatal.

Gov. Hoffman had heart disease, Gov. Dorsheimer, apparently a strong, well, robust man, over six feet high, sickness and dies in four days, of pneumonia.

Chief Justice Waite meets the same fate and he was apparently the personification of vigor.

Drexel, the Philadelphia banker, and Brewster, Ex-Atty. Genl., were suddenly cut off in the midst of great usefulness, by Bright's disease, and Dr. Carpenter, the well-known New York physician, suddenly died of kidney disease, never having suspected that he was at all troubled therewith!

This reminds us of the case of Dr. Frank Hawthorn, of New Orleans. He was lecturing before the Louisiana university on the peculiarly deceptive character of kidney disease and the methods of microscopical and chemical tests.

After having shown specimen after specimen of diseased fluids, and made very clear the point that kidney disease may exist without the knowledge or suspicion of the patient or practitioner, with gracious self-confidence he remarked, "Now, gentlemen, let me show you the healthy water of a strong, well man."

He applies the test!
He staggers!
"Gentlemen, I have made a terrible discovery!" he gasps, "I myself have the fatal Bright's disease!"

In less than a year this specialist of the commonest and most fatal of diseases was dead. He was a victim of advanced kidney disease the presence of which in himself he had never suspected!

L. B. PRICE, M. D., a gentleman and physician of the highest standing of Danvers, C. H., Va., four years ago, after trying every other remedy for bright's disease, including famous mineral waters, cured himself by Warner's Safe Cure, and March 24, 1888, wrote: "I have never had the slightest symptoms of my old and fearful trouble."

MR. JOHN DOHERTY, of Concord, N. H., was given up with Bright's disease by the best physicians in 1875. He was in a decrepit state. After using and being cured in 1881 by Warner's Safe Cure, in 1887, he wrote: "I am better than ever."

JOHN COLEMAN, Esq., 160 Gregory St., New Haven, Conn., was taken sick in 1873, gradually ran down until he had pronounced Bright's disease, the condition and of the other doctors agree of kidney disease. The best physicians in New Haven could do nothing for him. He then began using Warner's Safe Cure, 200 bottles of which he had his family have used and he is cured.

W. T. CRAWFORD, proprietor, St. Charles Hotel, Richmond, Va., and well known all through the South, several years ago was in the death-agony of kidney disease, excruciating and fatal disease. The best Philadelphia specialists in such diseases pronounced him practically dead and incurable. Everything else failing, he took Warner's Safe Cure abundantly and regularly, until fully restored to health, and now he says, "After a lapse of many years I am as sound as a dollar, with no symptoms of my old trouble. Love my life to Warner's Safe Cure."

Kidney disease is the most deceptive, the most universal, the most fatal disease.

If the most learned men cannot know without the use of microscopical and chemical tests that they have kidney disease, how much more liable is the layman to be, unknown to himself, in the very jaws of death, who does not feel as well as formerly, but who does not think anything specially ails him, and whose physician may assure him that he will soon be "all right."

In these days, people recognize that it is wiser to prevent disease than to await its arrival to cure it. When you know that you may be in the greatest peril and not have any idea of the fact from any defined set of ill-feelings, the wisest course to pursue is to follow the counsel and experience above outlined, and thoroughly renovate the system, cleanse the blood, tone the nerves and insure your own life against these common, mysterious fatalities.

CARRIER'S NOTICE.

Hereafter I will make it a rule to collect for the DAILY CAPITAL JOURNAL on each Monday, unless otherwise specially requested by patrons. I trust that all will bear this in mind, as I have between 800 and 1000 collections to make each month including the Examiner. By leaving the change at residence each Monday morning it will save much inconvenience. I will continue to collect for the Examiner on the first of each month.

WM. W. HENDERSON, Carrier.
